

Felix Harrison

Writer

Felix is an ambitious and highly cerebral writer, unafraid of exploring large concepts while keeping grounded, emotional themes at the core. His feature script, a philosophical thriller set in the Antarctic, FAR EDGE OF THE WORLD topped the Brit List in 2016, and currently has Ed Berger attached to direct. It is under option with Newscope films and is being produced by Chernin Entertainment in the US. His other grounded sci-fi feature STAR DREAM has director Bjorn Runge onboard and is being produced by Silver Reel and Newscope. In other feature work, his adaptation of Frederick Forsyth's novel THE FOURTH PROTOCOL is currently being taken out to cast, with Pierre Morel attached as director. Most recently he has also written an adaptation of Kate Hamer's best-selling novel THE GIRL IN THE RED COAT for Hilary Bevan Jones at Endor, as well as a feature adaptation of the sci-fi series EXTRACTED for Cavalry Media.

For TV, he is currently working on an adaptation of THE MOROCCAN GIRL by Charles Cumming, in development with Brillstein Creative Partners and EOne. Aside from his screen work, he co-wrote the award-winning SOME LIKE IT HIP HOP for the stage, which recently returned for a tour in 2019, and was the co-creator and co-producer of the West End hit INTO THE HOODS.
