

Jada Nation

Writer

Born in the United States, Jada Nation has a BA in Film Studies from Columbia University in NYC and just completed the MA Screenwriting course at the London Film School. Jada is a huge talent with incredible potential – a born story-teller whose writing is both naturalistic and vividly entertaining. Her first screenplay, THE SECRET OF THE REDWOODS, is a wildly original psychological thriller set in her native American South. She is currently developing an original TV pilot, SOUTHERN ETHICS.
