

Caroline Bannock & Lesley Cavendish
Writers

Caroline Bannock and Lesley Cavendish began writing together in 2008. Caroline started her career in television journalism with ABC News and Channel 4 News before completing an MA in Screenwriting from Bournemouth University. Passing with distinction, she went on to win the Alan Plater Screenwriting Prize. In 2007 she was selected for the TAPS Full Length Script Development Course and was shortlisted for South West Screen's Script Development Competition, which has since provided development funding alongside the UKFC. Lesley was a commercials' producer (working with directors such as Roger Woodburn, Paul Weiland, Ivan Zacharias) and then a development executive at Little Bird Films. She was the second unit producer on ORDINARY DECENT CRIMINAL.

Caroline and Lesley are currently developing a number of new projects together. MR WRIGHT is their first feature
